Winslow Community Center Association

Tanya Farris

According to the calendar – we've flown through half of 2018 and if you're like those of us at the WCCA – you're realizing that there just aren't enough hours or days in the month!

Our 2nd Annual SquirrelFest is in the books and, while we didn't have a huge turnout we were able to replenish the bank account with a nice little deposit! Thanks to everyone for coming out and supporting our benefit and continuing to support all the efforts made by the Community Center to serve the community.

In that regard, a reminder that we will be hosting a benefit for Kira Dwyer Sanford to help her and her family after the tragic death of her husband Jason. This will be a spaghetti supper benefit in the cafeteria. There will be spaghetti, garlic bread, salad and dessert for a nominal fee of $5.00 adults or $3.00 children. Gene & Stew and Chuck & Amanda will be gracing us with some acoustic music followed by a pie auction! Y'all come out and show some love.

On Wednesday, July 25th Tanya will be teaching an Internet Safety Class for Senior Citizens in the Computer Learning Lab-Rock Building from 10:30-11:30am. Anyone interested, please email Tanya at tanya@slowtowne.com as class size is limited.

Additionally, we'll have an Internet Safety Class for children (with their parents) on Wednesday, August 1st same time/same place. Stranger Danger on the Internet is a real and dangerous thing – knowledge is the answer! Again, class size is limited, and you can contact Tanya at the above email to reserve your space.

Internet safety is just one of the upcoming classes. Tanya will be teaching an Introduction to Microsoft Windows Operating System class on Wednesday, August 8th from 10:00 to 11:00am and 6:00 to 7:00pm. This class will focus on basic introduction to the computer's operating system, programs, security and file storage. Stay tuned for more upcoming computer classes that will include programs such as Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Adobe Photoshop. More details in August's Within Winslow.

Hope everyone is having a safe and wonderful summer.

Tips from the Hilltop

Ann Tomlinson Malkie

My Dad, James, was a carpenter and painter, meaning he painted buildings and similar objectives. He was noted for not leaving splinters in the wood or paint in unexpected spots. I am finding that I apparently did not inherit the gene and probably should stick to tiny brushes on canvas. The project – the railing around my deck and porches. The problem: misinformation and using real paint brushes on wood. When the railing was finished in April, I was advised I needed to stain it and told there was no need to sand it as the splinters would lay down when stained. No big deal, right? Wrong. Initial suggestion, various browns to match the cedar pillars so I purchased some small cans of sample browns, got busy with Meals and basically put off staining. The builders saw the railing one day and said, "hey, better get that stain on it or it will turn on you!" What? Yep, already had some grey spots starting to show. Now it is in the high 80's outside and I am trying to paint, err, stain, the railing. Despite never seeing Dad put up a board without sanding, I starting staining without sanding and found the splinters did not lay down! Now I am also hand sanding the railing (sander still packed somewhere). Now it was recommended to go natural, show the wood. After buying two gallons of expensive natural stain, and doing the top of four sections, I noticed that the ugly grey showed through. So someone told me I could mix the stains. Sounds like a wonderful idea, added the natural to a Walnut sample (largest can I had) and started staining again. Back to town for two more gallons of stain, this time Walnut. Hope that it does not matter that they are different brands and one is very oil based causing the wood to repel water. Since I am mixing, every railing will be its unique color, just like the trees and that is okay as I like different. Thanks for reading, hope you are having fun this summer as my life is always one adventure after another.

New Trees Planted Line the North Entrance to Winslow

On June 28, three ten-foot tall sycamores were planted between the Winslow Ball Park parking lot and Highway 71. They represent the first stage of tree plantings planned by the Winslow Tree Board, as part of its commitment to being a "Tree City USA" and to beautify the northern entrance to Winslow.

The trees, weed fabric, slow-release water bags and T-posts were funded by the City of Winslow and the Arkansas Department of Forestry for less than $250. The planting was all volunteer work: Chuck Patrick with his back hoe to do the hauling of mulch and the digging, and Dave Leisure and Ken Stout to plant the trees and to set in the weed fabric, water bags and mulch.

The next stage of tree planting is currently being negotiated with the new Dollar General Store, and involves small trees planted between the store's parking lot and Highway 71. This is tentatively set for the fall.

Memories of Fleeta

By Jo Kyle

I got to know Fleeta Clark when I went to work at the Winslow Library in 1996 when it was next door to City Hall. She loved to read and couldn't wait for the newest Christian books to come in each month. It was always a contest to see who would get the books first, Fleeta, Lois or Mary.

I don't remember how the interchange between Fleeta and my husband, Clyde ever got started but it seemed like I was always carrying a message to the "Old Geezer" (Clyde) from the "Old Broad" (Fleeta). and vice versa. They both said it with grin on their face and a chuckle in their voice. I can see it now,; everytime they pass on those golden pathways upstairs everyone's head turns as they say," How you doing you Old Geezer?" "Just fine, and you, you Old Broad?" And then they both laughed.

She was a person who never forgot a birthday or anniversary, Was always the first person to volunteer to make Chicken and Dumplings for any event the community or an organization had planned.

Her laugh was so infectious. If she laughed everyone around her laughed too. She had a zest for living as her 100+ years showed.

A visitation will be held for Margaret on Wednesday, June 13, 2018 from 5:00PM to 7:00PM at Moore's Chapel Funeral Home in Fayetteville.

Tommy Lowell Seay,

He is survived by two sons, Amery Seay (Ashlee) of Springdale and Winslow Seay (Christina) of Huntsville; three daughters, Autumn Salamack of Bloomington, Indiana, Katie Seay Lewis (Kacy) of Fayetteville and Zoe Seay of Rogers; five young granddaughters; two sisters, Laura Lynn Chitwood of Ballwin, Missouri and Leslie Wetherbee (Lowell) of Bentonville; one brother, Allen Seay of Fayetteville; and a large group of loved nieces, nephews and cousins.

YOU THINK ABOUT THAT

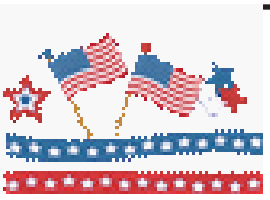
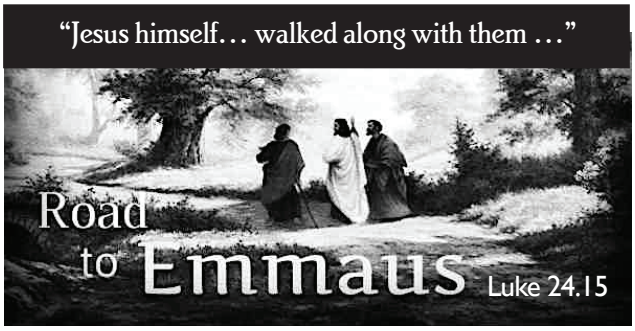
LOVE (PART II)

A Society that promotes Love only without any consequences of actions either in this Life or in Life after death will only unleash the Sin Nature in Humankind with no principles to restrain him and will end in Sorrow and Anguish just as we are beginning to see and experience in this Nation.
The opposite of Love is NOT Hate. It is Selfishness, Greed and Arrogance. What is happening in our World, in our Nation, in our Society is not Love. Real Love, Real empathy and Real compassion, has been replaced with apathy, lethargy and unconcern. The ever-growing presence of Selfishness, Greed and Arrogance is spawning, fostering and promoting Apathy, Self-Centeredness and Hate among all levels in our Society. As Long As It Isn't Happening To Me Attitude. This evil is very present in the Church or it would not be in our World, our Nation and our Society at the level it exists today. Jesus dined with Sinners. However, Jesus did not approve of the way they lived and told them in very explicit terms. Matthew 6:24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Matthew 23:27 Woe unto you, scribes(Leaders, Preachers, Teachers) and Pharisees(Church Members), hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. James 1:8 A double minded man is unstable in all his ways. You cannot believe in God and accept Perversion as Love. You cannot believe in God and accept Baby Killing as Love. You cannot believe in God and accept Racism as Love. You cannot believe in God and accept the continual breaking of Laws in this Country. God is about Love, however on the other hand God is about being intolerant of lawlessness. This Country is punishing criminals and separating parents from their kids on one hand and on the other will Not punish criminals because of separating parents from their kids. That Is "DOUBLE MINDEDNESS" folks. This Country is Unstable in all it's ways and will not survive continuing to promote such instability. There will be a Judgment day and you will be there to answer for "Your" own personal Actions or Non-Actions. I'm Wesley Wood, YOU THINK ABOUT THAT!





Democracy & Religion

Powerful forces in America are increasingly hostile to the expression of religious values in American society. Under the guise of "separation of Church and State," they seek to banish all public expressions of religion from American life. They have relentlessly warred against school prayer, the 10 Commandments in classrooms, prayers at athletic contests, Christmas carols in school plays and manger scenes or crosses on state property. Many are proclaiming religion a danger to public health which must be quarantined in church buildings! The truth is, of course, that the First Amendment does not mention "separation" of church and state and the crusade to eliminate all connections between our government and its spiritual roots has jeopardized the "free exercise" of religion which IS guaranteed by the First Amendment!

It is interesting in this connection to note the attitude of the molders of our constitution.

1) John Adams voiced their common view when he said: "Our constitution was made only for a religious and a moral people. It is wholly inadequate for the government of any other." He also said, "Without virtue there can be no political liberty."

2) The Northwest Ordinance, approved by Congress in 1789 declared: "Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." (Note that public schools were intended to promote religion!)

3) Thomas Jefferson, who first used the expression "separation" of church and state, as President of the School Board of the District of Columbia, chose the Bible and Isaac Watts' Hymnal to teach reading in the District.

4) George Washington, in his farewell address said, "Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of Patriotism, who would ... subvert these great Pillars of human happiness… National Morality (cannot) prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

Clearly the founding fathers were convinced that democracy could not survive in a nonreligious society!
