BACK TO SCHOOL!

The temperatures say it's still summer, but the calendar tells us it's time to go back to school. Early commuters will have to allow extra time for bus stops. If you regularly come home around 3:00 - 4:30 watch out for the school bus taking kids home. When that red flashing light comes on you don't know if those young ones will be crossing the highway or not. Always be aware, NO texting, or other distractions that might take your mind off of your driving. I realize this is good advice for all driving but it is critical during the school term. Every year children are maimed or killed. According to statistics over 100,000 motorists pass a stopped school bus every day.

(Posted in Child Injury - School Bus Accidents, Child School Bus Injury) Please be careful and mindful when driving behind a school bus. Treat every stop as though it was your child in that bus.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL WINSLOW RUN HALF MARATHON AND 5K

THE SIXTH ANNUAL WINSLOW RUN HALF MARATHON AND 5K will be held Saturday, September 10th from 8 a.m. until noon.

Proceeds from this race support local organizations that benefit Winslow and the surrounding area. Please help us make it a success.

Half Marathon runners will start at the former Winslow school on US 71 at 8:00 a.m. and will immediately turn left onto School Street. The 5k will start 15 minutes later and will follow the same course.

From Main Street, the runners will turn right onto Van Buren. Within 45 minutes, Van Buren to Center Street should be clear of most runners.

Runners will continue along Van Buren to Bunyard Road. There will be runners on this part of Van Buren and Bunyard Road from just after 8 a.m. until close to noon. There will be runners on Center Street from about 8:30 a.m. until noon.

By participating, the runners are contributing financially to our community. To thank them and to keep our community and the runners safe, the Winslow Community Development Council is asking residents to:

- Please avoid driving on the course between 8 AM. and noon on Saturday the 10th.
- If you have dogs, please keep them restrained during the race.
- If the runners are passing your house, come out and cheer them on!
- Finally, you can sign up to join the race or volunteer to help by writing the email below.

I Am Looking For My Forever Home My Name is Dax

I am a 2 year old, neutered male, German Shepherd mix

Here is my story: I've been in and out of an animal shelter twice in the past 6 months. The first time I came in as a stray, but no one came to claim me.

After about a month I got adopted but returned to the shelter because health problems arose for my adopters. Soon I was considered one of the shelter's longest residents which meant my chance of finding a home was about to come to an end.

Luckily someone is now fostering me, but I still need a forever home.

I think I often get overlooked because of my large size. Most people are looking for a dog suitable for an apartment or small yard, and yes it's true, I wouldn't be great for that. My ideal home would be on acreage to run and play. I'm one of the friendliest and goofiest dogs you'll ever meet, and I love other dogs and most animals. However, I haven't quite considered cats as family/friends yet so if you have cats, for their own safety, being around them might not be the best idea.

I really hope that after reading this you'd consider giving me a forever home. IF you think I'd be a great addition to your family or if you're a one person family who wants to take me everywhere you go I would LOVE that too! Please text the number

below. Much love, Dax

SENIOR CITIZENS AND THE RISKS OF FALLING

Senior citizens need to know that heart disease and cancer are not as likely to cause death as are complications from a fall. Falls account for more than 80% of injury-related hospital admissions in people over 65. In fact, falls are the leading cause of injury related deaths in older adults. And 30%-40% of 'community-dwelling' older adults suffer from a fall every year.

The answer many 'health experts' offer is to simply encourage older patients to rely on canes, and walkers for support when balance issues become even a slight problem.

But now there is a growing body of scientific evidence revealing that chiropractic care affects sensory and motor systems, which positively influence neuromuscular coordination risks, associated with falling. In fact, poor physical coordination associated with fall risks improved in a group of 'community-dwelling' older adults receiving chiropractic care.

The chiropractic group also displayed statistically significant improvements in physical quality of life when compared with a "usual care" control group.

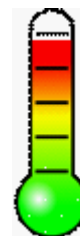

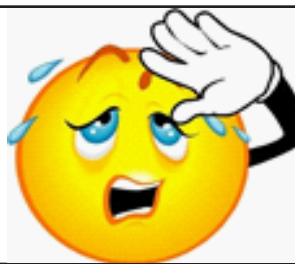

Researchers found that outcomes measured for both sensorimotor function (physical coordination) and quality of life improved with chiropractic care.

So, if an older person, with one or more risk factors related to falls, can minimize those risks, the likelihood of falling can be decreased and potentially extend his or her life. We are here to help. (References available upon request)

A Political View

By David Gesn©2016

(The following view does not necessarily reflect the view of this paper or its' editor.)

The political agenda of today, to say the least, is a farce. Of the two major candidates which one can actually make a difference in America? Whether we can trust either one is debatable. Once again, we are stuck with voting for the lesser of two evils. Each is a pawn of larger forces. We, the public, will decide who will put their stamp on history.

Democracy is no guarantee of any virtue, not even intelligence. Bashing each other's capabilities does not solve America's problems, as a whole.

We continue to explain to the world that democracy is the key to any success for other nations yet we cannot clean-up our own backyard. Our polities have run amok.

Emerson once stated, "A great leader exhibits new possibilities to all humanity, not merely a chosen few." Great leaders are not demigods, nor are they infallible. No person of wealth can truly relate to anyone of lesser stature, unless they – themselves have experienced such a life. Wealthy candidates live in and are surrounded by unprecedented luxury. They are not the "Abraham Lincoln's" of the past. Indirectly, the Presidency is a bought commodity; candidates spending millions of dollars in the process. Money is definitely included in the struggle for power. After all, it takes money to make money, even if certain values are compromised.

America, though a great country, is no longer the dynasty it once was. We are, once again, coming close to being a shattered kingdom. Other countries pounce on our mistakes and benefit in profit. No one person, on their own, can "bring it all back to America"; for there must be a balance with the world we do business with. Promises are cheap thoughts by any politician.

Let us take up the topic of eliminating the evilness of the "other" countries of the world such as Isis. We so wish to make the world a safer place. How many people died a senseless death in America? How many do we kill each day of the year? Which candidate can fix this problem for their own country?

Wall Street and Big Business run this country. Though controversy exists over the "two", where would we be without them? No poor man ever gave another a job here he or she could put food on the table, own a home, and pay the bills.

Big business makes or breaks the economy of any country. The "Mom and Pop" type of business are good concerns, but it takes Big Business to carry the economic load. All candidates have used both big business and Wall Street as a footstool at one time or another.

America has no monopoly on immorality; morality went out the window a long time ago with the argument over "God and State". Money, politics, allows us to compromise our convictions, even deny our faith, for the happiness we desire, whether it is for another human being, or ourselves, as far as security is concerned.

Money has become our everlasting "morality" here on earth.

So, which candidate do we vote for and put our absolute trust in to do what's best for America, as a whole? You decide and then live with it! Ain't life grant? Hallelujah!

YOU THINK ABOUT THAT

By Wesley Wood

wesretired@cox.net

CHURCHES CAUSE CONFUSION

One of Obama's first quotes was "there is more than one way to God" and promptly criticized by Church Leaders, and me. I believe he's totally wrong. However, with a Church on every corner teaching different ways to get there it seems they are in agreement with his quote. Whether you want to admit it or not, that consistently causes "Confusion". God is not complicated and, he is not the author of confusion. John 14:6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. You say, they all believe that? Then why aren't they joined together working toward one goal, "bringing everyone to Jesus and being a positive influence against the evil in this country" instead of increasing their individual Church membership? United we "Stand". Divided we "Fall". We have been divided for way too long. Matthew 7:21 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. There will be a Judgment day and you will be there to answer for "Your" own personal actions. I'm Wesley Wood, YOU THINK ABOUT THAT! 12 Reasons Why I, As A Pastor, Have Decided To Quit Attending Sporting Events

1. The coach never came to visit me.
2. Every time I went, they asked me for money.
3. The people sitting in my row didn't seem very friendly.
4. The seats were very hard.
5. The referees made a decision I didn't agree with.
6. I was sitting with hypocrites – they only came to see what others were wearing.
7. Some games went into overtime and I was late getting home.
8. The band played some songs I had never heard before.
9. The games are scheduled on my only day to sleep in and run errands.
10. My parents took me to too many games when I was growing up.
11. Since I read a book on sports, I feel that I know more than the coaches, anyway.
12. I don't want to take my children because I want them to choose for themselves what sport they like best.
