“The Great Kudzu Kill”

By Ken Stout

On December 10, from 10 AM to 2 PM, twenty-three volunteers from around Washington County descended on the hill above Winslow’s Tunnel Park to help with the second stage of eradicating kudzu by digging up and disposing of the crowns of the plant.

Kudzu is an invasive plant that is “eating up” swatches of forest in the south. It is the killer “topiary” covering a lot of Artists’ Point on Mt. Gaylor. It grows (some say as much as 12” a day) across land and over trees, killing them as it spreads.

Last August, Winslow—through the Winslow Community Development Council--received a grant from Beaver Watershed Alliance (from funding through the Arkansas Forestry Commission) which, in part, hired an arborist to take down the kudzu vines and a dozen trees the vines had killed on the hill over Tunnel Park off Main Street, just up from City Hall.

The second stage of this war on kudzu was on December 10, underwritten by Beaver Watershed Alliance and supervised by Jennifer Ogle, Program Coordinator of BWA. A lunch of delicious pizza, supplied by Glenn Jorgensen of Sky Vue Cabins, was served at City Hall, after which volunteers returned to the hill to cover bare earth with leaves and branches to prevent erosion.

The volunteers included several from Winslow: Amy and Dave Leisure, Mary and Steve Anderson, Jim Taylor, Donna Stout, Rob

Seal, organizer Ken Stout, and Mayor Randy Jarnagan.

The next battle in the kudzu war in Tunnel Park will likely be in March and will involve eradicating the kudzu crowns and shoots which were inevitably missed, and to set in native trees and shrubs to curb erosion.

Stay tuned to Within Winslow to join the coming battle and to learn how to remove invasive plants (like privet and honeysuckle) from your own property and replace them with plants that are native and far more beneficial to insects, birds, and animals in our area.

January News

Happy NEW YEAR!!!

Much is happening at the Winslow Community Center as progress is being made each and every week.

With gratitude we salute Boone Holt for getting the electricity to the gym back up and running for the small price of the materials. If you see Boone around town – thank him in person for volunteering his time and skilled labor.

To that end, basketball is being played on Sunday Afternoons and on Tuesday evenings. Donation of money and/or your time is all it costs to play some hoops in the gym! Additionally, there should be heat in the gym in the next month if not sooner.

Work on the cafeteria is continuing and we're getting closer to having that part of the facility ready for gatherings and events!

From this point forward, all 1st Saturdays of each month will be volunteer clean-up days. Show up between 9a.m. and 10a.m. at the gym for your "assignments". Be sure and sign in those volunteer hours so that we can log them in our "matching funds" grant requests.

Weather permitting – January 7th (clean-up day) from 9a.m. – 1p.m. Tanya will be in the WCCA office at the Rock Building to take applications and membership dues. Photo identification cards will be made as well so wear your best smile! Membership dues are $10.00 per person or $25.00 per family.

We're looking for a yoga instructor! If you know anyone or are interested in presenting yoga classes, let us know.

IMPORTANT!!!!

Look for the Winslow Community Center Survey at the following locations:

- City Hall
- Post Office
- Winslow Library
- Meals on Wheels
- Mikey's
- Backwoods Beer and Goods

Please complete this survey and return it to Winslow City Hall on or before January 31st for a chance to be entered into a drawing for a $50.00 VISA gift card!

The Cavern – Epilogue

By David Gesn ©2017

For years upon years, man attempted to prove without a shadow of a doubt, that Jesse James and the Younger brothers holed up in caves at Devil's Den. There had always been speculation, but truthfully no solid proof. Then it happened. In the year 2016, man found that proof in a hidden cave in the area. It was never told to the public exactly what was found, but man now had solid proof of their existence in the area of concern. (Some men).

One day this will happen with "the Cavern", but until then man will exclaim "sour grapes". In other words, "it cannot be for we have not found it." Some folks have stated that common sense says it doesn't exist, but many folks have no common sense and manipulate any possibilities to fit their own instincts. Even on the Internet, information suggests that geology shows there's just not that much gold in "them there hills."

Ten years prior to writing about the cavern we – "the Group" knew that few people – if any, would ever believe such a story. None of us, initially, ever wanted to reveal it in the first place. It is a place of some peace of mind, and a lot of history. We knew what man would do with it if they came upon it, at least so many men. Man is greedy by nature, and this cavern not "making any sense" would produce that greed.

Finally, we decided to tell the world of its existence and somehow everyone voted for me to write about it, but we all agreed to convey it to our fellow man. It was a "democratic vote!"

All of us "got a day older" and became more decrepit. Three of us were actually from around the Winslow area, and the rest of us were "transplants." We didn't go to the cavern on a constant basis. In fact the tree from around the area "passed-on" and the rest of us moved off to different parts of the country.

I've been all over the world during my 65 years of existence. During the latter of those years, I have acquired the the "Big C" three times. Surgery, radiation, chemo – you name it, I've had it. With age, with moving around, with all those drugs, it's a wonder I can remember my name!

The terrain has also changed due to some horrendous floods. Our initial entrance is gone, covered up with massive boulders and dirt, and only God knows what else. We discovered that back in the nineties.

So, just because I can't tell you exactly where it is doesn't mean it doesn't exist, just because you haven't found it, the same theory. About where it is, I've put you right on top of it, but that covers a lot of territory. After all it is some eight and a half miles in length! Somebody is going to find it some day and when they do they may keep it a secret or tell the world. That's their choice.

The Confederacy sure knew where it was and put their knowledge into stone. – Hallelujah!

”Resolutions”

Self-analysis prior to any resolution for any New Year is a must. Resolutions are at times nothing more than speculation at best. Some are successful endeavors, some are compromised and many are broken.

One of my resolutions I’ve continued to endure for so many was to never ever consider running for president of the United States. That’s one of the resolutions I have managed to keep without much effort over the years since my dad once stated, “You too, can be president!” The one thing that kept me from even considering it was I’m just not that intelligent, for what is “151” but just another number?

Though I’ve been in a lot of debates, I could not raise thirty-five million dollars to be in recent debates, and though a tad nuts, I am not a narcissistic, egotistical maniac and maybe that’s what it takes to be president! Hallelujah!

So, America has a new president and maybe he will make some resolutions, but let me say one thing about that. It might just be a little naïve to believe that anything of perfection will suddenly evolve from any imperfections created by man. History shows that the more wealth a person obtains, the greater the opportunity for abuse to those with less wealth.

Another resolution I’ve made is to put my two cents into the building of a wall. After all, the taller the wall the deeper the tunnel and the tunnels will be like caves and I love exploring caves! Probably no bats in the tunnels and we can put artifacts in them to make them more interesting! Plus, this will put a lot of people back to work and it (the wall); will be another great wonder of the world! People from all over the world will marvel over “the great wall of America!” No longer will Americans have to travel to china to see such a sight! Hallelujah!

Let’s see now, Mexico is going to pay for the wall with pesos, which a barrelful is worth about a dollar and dollar is worth about thirty-seven cents; well, the math is a little fuzzy. Could be that a lot of people are not going to get paid but recent history has taught us that that’s legal. Maybe all the people building the wall could become “incorporated” and then pass their taxes onto someone else and then keep what little bit (if any) they make of any monies. Instead of getting a twelve percent cut on taxes, now they wouldn’t have to pay any taxes, imagine that! Indirectly, the wall is a tax write off and everybody is happy! Hallelujah!

I have got to go down and talk to the little people concerning any resolution. I trust them with their advice. Some resolutions were just not meant to be. Sometimes we can surpass our expectations and other times we can bury ourselves with our expectations! I have a feeling that the little people are sure going to be busy this new – Hallelujah and Happy New Year Everybody!

Something Old is New Again – for Long Term Pain Relief

The annual medical expenses for back pain treatment is staggering, so it's no surprise that over 50% of all bankruptcies are a result of medical expenses. Even back in 1982 around 50 billion dollars were spent in the U.S. for medical treatment of back pain alone, and 85% of that cost covered only about 10% of all patients – those who had developed chronic pain. Chronic Back Pain is still the fastest-growing cause of medical disability in America today.

From 1971-1981, our population grew 12.5%, but there was a 168% rise in Back Pain Disabled patients. Statistics showed that standard medical treatments, bed rest, tens, cortico-steroid injections, etc. were not effective. Prominent researchers even suggested that medical management of back pain had actually promoted disability.

Fast forward to the present, and see what WebMD says: (my comments, in parentheses)

- 1) "Low back pain causes more disability than nearly 300 other conditions worldwide."
- 2) "Low back pain is responsible for about 1/3 of work-related disability."
- 3) "Low back pain is something almost all people experience at some point."
- 4) "For the majority of people with low back pain, the specific cause is unclear." (And without proper training, knowledge and skills, proper care is impossible, and even minor back pain, can become chronic and disabling.)
- 5) "Low back pain causes more global disability than any other health problem studied." (However, when a qualified practitioner knows the cause of a health problem – he knows how to correct it, and Chiropractors have known the cause of Back Pain for some 100 years. That's how they've been helping thousands of patients with chronic back pain.

One wonders why most back pain sufferers still don't know the value of chiropractic care, because another major study, reported almost 35 years ago in the British Medical Journal, stated that spinal manipulation is highly effective with long-term benefits for chronic and severe back pain sufferers. The Rand Corporation concluded: There is no longer any argument against skilled manipulation for most acute back pain, and there is more controlled trial evidence for spinal manipulation, than for any other treatment approach. The greatest contraindication to manipulation, according to these and other studies, is a lack of training and skill.

Doctors of Chiropractic are the only back pain specialists, specifically educated, trained and skilled in spinal manipulative therapy, which is now the most scientifically established method of care for low back pain.

If you have low back pain, or know someone who does, contact us for a Complimentary Consultation, or if you need help finding a chiropractic doctor nearer to you, call us at (479) 294-6144. We are here to help.

SPIRIT OF GOD AND EMOTIONS

I could write a book about what I've seen with people getting emotional and claiming they "Feel" the Spirit of God. The "Fact" that proves otherwise is "It Contradicts Faith". Romans 8:24 For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? For those who think you're saved by "Grace" you need to think again. Read the Scripture, Ephesians 2:8-9 For by grace are ye saved through Faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. God's Grace has been extended to man from the "Fall" but you must accept it through "Faith". If you claim to know you are Saved then you are negating the "Thought Faith" part of the verse. You're also negating Roman 8:24 entirely. That means you believe God has "pardoned" you, which says you don't "know" you are saved but you "believe" you are saved. Galatians 5:5 For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith. The word "Spirit" here referring the incorporeal part of humans not a supernatural inhabiting of one's being. If it did, as I said, it would contradict and negate "Faith". Hebrews 11:6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. Therefore, if you're not absolutely living by "Faith", then you're not pleasing him and if you're not pleasing him, you're living in sin and sin will never enter Heaven. You're going to Church getting your warm fuzzy feelings thinking it's the Spirit of God but your sure not impressing the Father. No other way to cut it folks. There will be a Judgment day and you will be there to answer for "Your" own personal actions. I'm Wesley Wood, YOU THINK ABOUT THAT! Checkout my new website www.godslastcall.net Click the links at the top and watch the videos. "I Survived A Late Term Abortion" a must see. Get the book "The Great Evangelical Disaster" by Francis A. Schaeffer written in 1984. Every Church member and professing believer need to read this book. You can get it on Amazon, hard copy or kindle. I challenge you to compare it to my video on you tube." GOD'S LAST CALL TO THE CHURCH OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA"
